Abstract of the Invention

A method of processing a caption for a digital video disk (DVD) includes loading a prepared caption script of a predetermined language in a caption indicator, showing a moving picture corresponding to the caption script and ascertaining the caption generation point and caption annihilation point of the shown moving picture, writing time codes corresponding to the caption generation point and the caption annihilation point and displaying a list of caption scripts and a list of time codes on the caption indicator, checking the state of the time codes and the state of a corresponding caption displayed, and correcting the state of the time codes and the state of the corresponding caption displayed, and correcting the state of the time codes and the state of the corresponding caption displayed if an error is detected, and producing the caption scripts and the time codes in a scrip file.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Art Unit: 2616

The present invention is directed to a method of captioning a digital video disk. Independent claim 1 identifies the uniquely distinct features "loading a prepared caption script in a first language into a caption indicator", "showing a moving picture corresponding to the caption script and ascertaining caption generation and caption annihilation points of the moving picture", "writing time codes corresponding to the caption generation point and the caption ending point and displaying a list of caption scripts and a list of time codes on the caption indicator". The closest prior art, Subramanian et al (US 6,587,635 B1) and Matz et al (US 6,198,511 B1) discloses conventional caption script generator, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above underlined limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
